Summary

TIP Trailer Services (“TIP”) is committed to being a responsible corporate citizen which requires TIP employees, suppliers, contractors and consultants to conduct themselves with integrity and to be accountable to the highest standards of business conduct and ethics.

As a TIP supplier, contractor or consultant (collectively “suppliers”) your actions reflect on TIP’s reputation and good name. That reputation depends on each business transaction we make being grounded in a foundation of ethical behavior.

TIP bases its supplier relationships on lawful, efficient and fair practices, and expects its suppliers to adhere to applicable legal and regulatory requirements in their business relationships, including those with their employees, their local environments, and TIP. The quality of our supplier relationships often has a direct bearing on the quality of our customer relationships. Likewise, the quality of our suppliers’ products and services affects the quality of our own products and services.

To help TIP suppliers understand the TIP commitment to unyielding integrity and the standards of business conduct that all TIP suppliers must meet, TIP has prepared this TIP Integrity Guide for Suppliers, Contractors and Consultants (“Supplier Guide”).

Suppliers should carefully review this Supplier Guide, including but not limited to the section, Responsibilities of TIP Suppliers. Suppliers are responsible for ensuring that they and their employees, representatives and sub-suppliers comply with the standards of conduct required of TIP suppliers. Please contact the TIP manager you work with or any TIP Compliance Resource if you have any questions about this Supplier Guide or the standards of business conduct that all TIP suppliers must meet.

3. Responsibilities of TIP Suppliers

TIP will only do business with suppliers that comply with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Today’s regulatory environment is becoming more and more challenging, subjecting TIP and its suppliers to a growing number of regulations and enforcement activities around the world. This environment requires that TIP and its suppliers continue to be knowledgeable about and compliant with all applicable regulations and committed to regulatory excellence. Suppliers that transact business with TIP are also expected to comply with their contractual obligations under any purchase order or agreement with TIP and to adhere to the standards of business conduct consistent with TIP’s obligations set forth in the “TIP Compliance Obligations” section of the Guide and to the standards described in this section of the Guide. A supplier’s commitment to full compliance with these standards and all applicable laws and regulations is the foundation of a mutually beneficial business relationship with TIP.

As stated above, TIP requires and expects each TIP supplier to comply with all applicable laws and regulations. Unacceptable practices by a TIP supplier include:

- Minimum Age. Employing workers younger than the required minimum age.
- Forced Labor. Using forced, prison or indentured labor, or workers subject to any form of compulsion or coercion.
- Environmental Compliance. Lack of commitment to observing applicable environmental laws and regulations. Actions that TIP will consider evidence of a lack of commitment to observing applicable environmental laws and regulations include:
  - Failing to maintain and enforce written and comprehensive environmental management programs, which are subject to periodic audit.
  - Failing to maintain and comply with all required environmental permits.
  - Permitting any discharge to the environment in violation of law, issued/required permits, or that would otherwise have an adverse impact on the environment.
- Health & Safety. Failure to provide workers a workplace that meets applicable health and safety standards.
- Human Rights & Modern Slavery. Failure to respect human rights of supplier’s employees. The supplier certifies that they are in compliance with the applicable modern slavery and anti-human trafficking legislation in their respective countries.
- Code of Conduct. Failure to maintain and enforce company policies requiring adherence to lawful business practices, including a prohibition against bribery of government officials.
- Business Practices and Dealings with TIP. Offering or providing, directly or indirectly, anything of value, including cash, bribes or kickbacks, to any TIP employee, representative or customer or government official in connection with any TIP procurement, transaction or business dealing. Such prohibition includes the offering or providing of any consulting, employment or similar position by a supplier to any TIP employee (or their family member or significant other) involved with a TIP procurement. TIP also requires that a TIP supplier not offer or provide TIP employees and representatives with any gifts, other than gifts of nominal value to commemorate or recognize a particular TIP-supplier business transaction or activity. In particular, a TIP supplier shall not offer, invite or permit TIP employees and representatives to participate in any supplier or supplier-sponsored contest, game or promotion.

- Business Entertainment of TIP Employees and Representatives. Failing to respect and comply with the business entertainment (including travel and living) policies established by TIP and governing TIP employees and representatives. A TIP supplier is expected to understand the business entertainment policies of the applicable TIP component or business before offering or providing any TIP employee or representative any business entertainment. Business entertainment should never be offered to a TIP employee and representative by a supplier under circumstances that create the appearance of an impropriety.

- Collusive Conduct and TIP Procurements. Sharing or exchanging any price, cost or other competitive information or the undertaking of any other collusive conduct with any other third party supplier or bidder to TIP with respect to any proposed, pending or current TIP procurement.

- Intellectual & Other Property Rights. Failing to respect the intellectual and other property rights of others, especially TIP. In that regard, a TIP supplier shall:
  - Only use TIP information and property (including tools, drawings and specifications) for the purpose for which they are provided to the supplier and for no other purposes.
  - Take appropriate steps to safeguard and maintain the confidentiality of TIP proprietary information, including maintaining it in confidence and in secure work areas and not disclosing it to third parties (including other customers, subcontractors, etc.) without the prior written permission of TIP.
  - If requested by TIP, only transmit TIP information over the Internet on an encrypted basis.
  - Observe and respect all TIP patents, trademarks and copyrights and comply with such restrictions or prohibitions on their use as TIP may from time to time establish.

- Export Controls & Customs Matters. The transfer of TIP technical information to any third party without the express, written permission of TIP. Failing to comply with all applicable export controls laws and regulations in the export or re-export of TIP technical information, including any restrictions on access and use applicable to non-U.S. nationals, and failing to ensure that all invoices and any customs or similar documentation submitted to TIP or governmental authorities in connection with transactions involving TIP accurately describe the goods and services provided or delivered and the price thereof.

- Use Sub-Suppliers or Third Parties to Evade Requirements. The use of sub-suppliers or other third parties to evade legal requirements applicable to the supplier and any of the standards set forth in this Section of the Guide.

The foregoing standards are subject to modification in the discretion of TIP. Please contact the TIP manager you work with or the TIP Compliance Leader if you have any questions about these standards and/or their application to particular circumstances. Each TIP supplier is responsible for ensuring that the supplier and its employees and representatives understand and comply with these standards. TIP will only do business with those suppliers that comply with applicable legal requirements and reserves the right, based on its assessment of information then available to TIP, to terminate, without liability to TIP, any pending purchase order or contract with any supplier that does not comply with the standards set forth in this section of the Guide.
4. How to Raise an Integrity Concern

Each TIP supplier is expected to promptly inform TIP of any Integrity concern involving or affecting TIP, whether or not the concern involves the supplier, as soon as the supplier has knowledge of such Integrity concern. A TIP supplier shall also take such steps as TIP may reasonably request to assist TIP in the investigation of any Integrity concern involving TIP and the supplier. An Integrity concern may be raised by a TIP supplier to a cognizant TIP management, or any Compliance Resource (i.e., Company legal counsel or compliance leader).

1. Define your concern: Who or what is the concern? When did it arise? What are the relevant facts?
2. Raise the concern - prompt reporting is crucial:
   - Discuss with a TIP Manager;
   - Discuss with a TIP legal counsel or compliance leader;
   - web: www.tipeurope.com
   - email: compliance@tipeurope.com
   - A TIP Compliance Resource will promptly review and investigate the concern.
3. III. TIP Policy forbids retaliation against any person reporting an Integrity concern. Contact the TIP Compliance Leader, or the TIP Ombudsperson.

2. We are also committed to ensuring there is transparency in our own business and in our approach to tackling modern slavery throughout our supply chains, consistent with our disclosure obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We expect the same high standards from all of our contractors, suppliers and other business partners, and as part of our contracting processes, we include specific prohibitions against the use of forced, compulsory or trafficked labor, or anyone held in slavery or servitude, whether adults or children, and we expect that our suppliers will hold their own suppliers to the same high standards.

You should note that where appropriate, and with the welfare and safety of local workers as a priority, we will give support and guidance to our suppliers to help them address coercive, abusive and exploitative work practices in their own business and supply chains.
